GETTYSBURG ON TWO TOURS FOR PENNSY WEEK

Historical tours of east south-central Pennsylvania, to focus statewide attention on historic spots of this section, have been mapped for Pennsylvania Week, October 15 to 21. Secretary of Commerce Andrew J. Sordani announced today.

The trips, each requiring less than a day for completion, were planned in cooperation with the State Department of Commerce by the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission, whose executive director, Dr. Donald A. Cadzow, said similar tours also are being prepared for more distant areas of the state.

Although four separate tours have been outlined for the east south-central section, the commission's historian, Dr. S. K. Stevens, made it clear that these itineraries "do not pretend to cover all points of historical and scenic interest in the eight counties through which they lead."

Organizers throughout the state were urged by I. S. Sahli, the 1951 state chairman for Pennsylvania Week, to arrange groups to take the Pennsylvania Week pilgrimages suggested by these well-planned trips.

"Such excursions," Mr. Sahli said, "will enable Pennsylvanians to add immeasurably to their knowledge of local history and at the same time have an enjoyable Pennsylvania Week outing during the state's most beautiful season."

Two of the four proposed tours of the east south-central portion of the state, will lead the Pennsylvania Week travelers to these historic high spots:

Carlisle-Gettysburg-Chambersburg, 85 miles—Mr. Holly Springs, Russell Tavern, south of Biglerville, Gettysburg; Caledonia State Park, James Buchanan cabin, Chambersburg, Old Court House, Shippensburg, Mt. Rock, southwest of Carlisle, and Carlisle.

Take Truckload Of Food To Church Home

A truckload of foodstuffs, donated Sunday at the annual Harvest Home service at St. James Lutheran church, was taken to the National Lutheran Home for the Aged in Washington, D. C., today by Roy A. Weaver, Jr., and the pastor, the Rev. Dr. Ralph R. Gresh. The donations of food were in addition to cash contributions.

Gifts taken to the home at Washington today included 137 quarts of home-canned fruit, 124 quarts of vegetables, 29 jars of pickles, 24 glasses of jellies, 12 cans of fruit and vegetable juices, 12 packs of deserts, two sacks of flour, a pound of coffee, a bushel of potatoes, 1½ bushels of apples, a peck of onions, cabbages, 24 bars of soap, 14 potted plants and a half bushel of assorted fruits and vegetables.

Richard Bircher's Boulevard airport, in Philadelphia, from which stems the Boulevard airport here, has been sold to make way for an 800 home building development.

Sale of the Philadelphia airport may result in the transfer of various sales agencies for light planes, held by Bircher, to the local airport.

The oldest airport in Philadelphia, the Boulevard airport, will close with the auction of the nine hangars there on October 4. The hangars range from one-plane structures to one housing 17 planes.

Established in 1917 by the army, the airport covered 145 acres and was known from the end of World War I to 1933 as William Penn airport.

U. S. Eighth Army Headquarters, Korea, Sept. 24 (P)—A savage Red counterattack today hurled American reinforcements off the highest peak of "Heartbreak Ridge" in eastern Korea.

The Americans had gained control of the peak after a bloody fight. Three Dutch-born remnants of a platoon, about 40 men, had formed to the top. Red forces came up fast and threw a Red charge.

But AP Correspondent Stuart C. Cooper said, an overwhelming mass of Reds then struck from behind a curtain of grenade explosions.

For the second time in seven days the Reds recaptured the strategic night overlooking Communist supply lines to the north.

Elsewhere on the east-central sector the Reds showed a slight advance in a series of probing attacks. All were the same back.

A leader's sky with warmer temperatures covered most of the front. Loss of the heartbreak peak was a bitter blow to the weary Americans. They had captured the height Sept. 17 after a bitter hand-to-hand battle. They lost it the next day.

Richard Bircher's Boulevard airport in Philadelphia, from which stems the Boulevard airport here, has been sold to make way for an 800 home building development.

Trained Many Cadets

Bircher, a Philadelphia businessman who was interested in flying and had received his pilot's license in 1931, purchased the field and renamed it Boulevard airport.

In 1937 he took over active management of the field and in 1939 started training young men preparing for the army air forces under the civilian pilot training program. When the government in 1942 placed restrictions on flying in the Philadelphia area, Bircher came to Gettysburg and purchased a farm along the Mummasburg road which he turned into the present Boulevard airport here. During World War II he trained more than 1,500 air force cadets here. Temple university sent its students here and Gettysburg college also provided students for flight instruction.

Since the war more than 700 have been taught to fly at the Philadelphia airport under GI training. Bircher estimates that approximately 3,000 have learned to fly at the Philadelphia Boulevard airport.

Lumps Of Uranium Found In Texas Shrouded In Mystery

Albuquerque, Sept. 24 (AP)—The only thing known for sure about nearly 100 pounds of refined uranium found in two chunks at Dalhart, Tex., is that very little is known for sure.

The FBI and the Atomic Energy Commission presumably know something about it. But they're not talking.

One piece was found burned early this summer by three boys playing in a tree. The FBI found the second later on a scrap heap. The finds were announced Saturday night by University of Mexico scientists who established that the metal was uranium.

This much is known: One piece weighs 33 pounds, the other 65 pounds. The metal has 18.6 times the density of water. It's black and tough. It's commercially pure uranium. And the AEC has it.

But the big question remains unanswered:

Where did it come from? The AEC says probably from a government installation. The nearest one to Dalhart is top secret, heavily guarded Los Alamos, N. M., some 300 miles away.

How much is it worth? Anywhere from $6 a pound (AEC estimate) to nearly $2,500 a pound (commercial chemist estimate).

How did it get to Dalhart? Theories range from theft by an atom spy to the falling of a flaming green "fireball" of uranium. Some think a souvenir hunter may have ditched it in Dalhart.

UN Informs Reds Kaesong Is Unsuitable As Site For Any Future Cease Fire Meetings; Allies Driven From High Peak

U. S. Eighth Army Headquarters, Korea, Sept. 24 (AP)—A savage Red counterattack today hurled American infantrymen off the highest peak of "Heartbreak Ridge" in eastern Korea.

The Americans had gained control of the peak late Sunday night. Three Doughboys—remnants of a platoon (about 40 men)—had stormed to the top. Reinforcements came up fast and threw back a Red charge.

But, AP Correspondent Stan Carter said, "an overwhelming mass" of Reds then struck from behind a curtain of grenade explosions.

For the second time in seven days the Reds recaptured the strategic height overlooking Communist supply lines to the north.

Elsewhere on the east-central sector the Reds tapped at Allied lines in a series of stiff probing attacks. All were thrown back.

Blow To Allies

The remainder of the 150-mile battlefield was relatively inactive Monday, although scattered patrol clashes were reported.

A leaden sky with warmer temperatures covered most of the front. Loss of the heartbreak peak was a bitter blow to the weary Doughboys. They first captured the height Sept. 17 after a bitter hand to hand battle. They lost it the next day.

Monday's setback came just as it seemed the Allies were rounding up their five-week conquest of strategic high ground on the east-central front.

It left the United Nations with a hard choice: Hurl still heavier attacks against the deadly slope, or end the offensive without one of its greatest prizes.

PLAN HOME "EC" PROGRAMS FOR YEAR IN COUNTY

Adams county's home economics groups are getting underway for another year, with the annual fall local leaders' meeting, which opens the seasonal programs, scheduled for Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the Adams Electric Cooperative, rear of North Stratton street.

Last year approximately 350 county women attended the sessions of the 13 groups established under the sponsorship of the Adams County Agricultural Extension association throughout the county and it is hoped that an even larger number of women will take advantage of the groups this year.

Select Own Projects

The units meet either twice a month, or monthly, depending upon the projects selected by the members of the groups. The women make cotton dresses, cane chairs, study redecoration of homes, make slip covers, study foods and their relation to health, or carry out another of more than 50 projects.

At most of the sessions the members carry on actual work on whatever project they have chosen, with the assistance and advice of Miss Mary Jane Mickey, county home economics extension representative, and, on occasion, experts from Pennsylvania state college.

Miss Mickey noted today that the groups are open to all women in the county, and are not confined to those women residing on farms.

Anyone interested in joining one of the groups should contact Miss Mickey at her office in the court house here.

BABE DIES AFTER DIET OF BEER

Dallas, Tex., Sept. 24 (AP)—Officers hope to learn today if a year-old baby died because a beer-drinking teen-ager fed it half a bottle of brew. The child, Leslie Fletcher, died Saturday night.

A 17-year-old boy was placed in jail without charge after he told Detective Capt. Will Fritz that he gave the infant boy the beer—then tried to revive it with orange soda pop.

Blood tests will be completed today to determine the alcoholic content of the baby's blood. A physician said the baby might have been so intoxicated that he strangled on the soda pop.

The infant was left with a 16-year-old girl baby sitter in South Dallas by the mother, Mrs. Clifford F. Fletcher. The child's father is in the army.

The baby sitter was joined by another girl about her age and two boys, 17 and 16. As the two couples sat in a car in front of the house, the older boy held the infant in his lap and gave it beer from the bottle.

"The baby started turning greenish blue and I gave him an orange drink and he went to sleep," the boy told Fritz.

No charges have been filed in the case. Under Texas law, a person may sue publications using his name in connection with a police inquiry unless formal charges are filed against him.

GIVE REASONS

Can Teach Religion

"We establish our own schools not because we do not appreciate the public schools and the work they are doing, but having our own schools permits us to teach religion to our children in the schools, to make them understand religion as a part of life. Legislation has practically outlawed the Bible from the public schools, leaving them with only the material things to teach."

Paul Bennett at the evening service noted that schools were among the earliest Christian traditions. Christ gave the command to "go teach ye all nations," and taught his disciples and taught in the temple. Historically, Mr. Bennett noted, "the churches were the founders of education in America. The construction of the earliest churches was followed almost immediately by the construction of a school for the children of the church. Establishment of day schools such as our school here is a return to that practice."

Bucknell Crushes Bullets 41-7 In Opener At Hershey Stadium

A powerful Bucknell university team that bids fair to live up to its pre-season rating as one of the best in the east, completely outclassed a lighter Gettysburg college outfit 41-7 Saturday night before approximately 10,000 fans in the fifth annual Harrisburg Rotary Bowl game in the Hershey stadium.

The stampeding Bison rushed off to a 20-0 lead in the first nine minutes and at half time had an imposing 34-0 advantage.

Gettysburg took to the air in the final seconds of the game to register its lone tally, Bobby Bitner whipping a pass to Ronny Jacob in the end zone for the score. Berk Ward booted the extra point and the game ended shortly afterwards.

Bisons Score Quickly

The Bullets received the opening kickoff which, aided by a strong south wind, sailed far into the end zone. After getting no where on three tries, Ward punted and his boot went wide to go out on the Gettysburg 33. A line plunge netted three yards and then Brad Myers on a pitchout, which he fumbled but picked up when it bounced perfectly, swept his own right end to race to the 1-yard mark. Talmage was held to half a yard on a line buck and then Tom Dean went over on a quarterback sneak after 2-49. Mason's placement was blocked.

Again Mason kicked off into the Bullet end zone. The powerful Bison line smashed through on two plays to put Gettysburg back on its 7 and Ward booted out to his own 32. Three line stabs were good for a first down on the 21. Two plays later Dean pitched out to Talmage who went 17 yards around left end to score. Mason converted.

Yost Thrills Fans

Gettysburg fans got one of their biggest thrills on the following kickoff when Earl Yost, Williamsport, a freshman, took the ball 2 yards behind the goal line and raced up the middle of the 48 before being downed. However, the Bullets were soon forced to punt but on the play the Bremen-drew a 15-yard penalty to put the ball on the locals' 46. At that point Myers took a pitchout, reversed his field and ran the distance to score. Mason kicked the point to make the score 20-0 after 8:40 minutes of time had elapsed.

Early in the second quarter the Bullets reeled off two straight first downs on some hard running by Gene Powell, a freshman from Harrisburg. After reaching the 41, the Bullets took to the air and one of Ward's passes was deflected into the arms of Stan Butterworth who raced 63 yards to score. Again Mason booted the point.

Bucknell's fifth score came after taking possession of the ball on the Gettysburg 45 via a punt Albert and Talmage led the drive to the 5 from where Yackaniz went around right end to hit pay dirt. Mason made the score 34-0 with his conversion.

Start With Penalty

Gettysburg was in hot water at the opening of the third period when it drew a 15-yard penalty for delaying the start. The locals kicked from the 25 and then yielded three straight first downs to allow Bucknell to reach the Bullet 5 but here Gettysburg, aided by an off-side penalty, flashed fine form by holding and taking possession. The Bullets booted out to the 32. Aspinwall picked up a first down on the 18 and then Aspinwall hurled a pass to Yackaniz on the 5 from where he bulled over. Again Mason converted.

Plenty of reservists were in action for the last period from both benches. Late in the quarter the Bullets opened their TD drive from their own 45. Bitner completed four straight aeriels passing to Bill Yocum on the 10 and then heaved to Jacob for the score.

The Bullets flashed good form from time to time but were simply overpowered by a determined Bison team that remembered Bullet performances against them during the last four seasons. The heavy forward wall from Lewisburg kept Gettysburg in hot water at all times.

Next Saturday Western Maryland will play here as the feature of the "Hen" Bream Day attraction.

YANKS, DODGERS ALMOST CERTAIN CAST FOR SERIES

By JOE REICHLER
 (Associated Press Sports Writer)
 New York's onrushing Yankees and Brooklyn's back-peddaling Dodgers are all but mathematically certain to meet, for the fourth time in 21 years, in baseball's top classic, the World Series.

Both came closer to clinching their respective championships yesterday. The Yankees increased their American league lead over Cleveland to two and a half games, beating the Red Sox in the rubber game in Boston, 6-1. The revenge-minded Tigers meanwhile thumped the Indians for the third straight time in Detroit 9-1.

The Dodgers snapped a two-game losing streak with a 6-2 triumph over the Philadelphia Phillies and retained their three-game National league lead over the hard-pressing New York Giants. The Polo Grounders, fighting a seemingly-losing battle, again whipped the Boston Braves, 4-1.

Magic Number Is Three
 The magic number is now three for the Yankees and four for the Dodgers. The Yankees, with a four-game bulge on the important losing side over the Indians and third-place Red Sox, need win only three of their remaining six to wrap up the flag, even if Cleveland wins its final three and Boston its final games. Two Yankee victories insure at least a tie.

Any combination of four Dodgers victories and/or Giant defeats brings the pennant to Brooklyn. If the Dodgers capture four of their last seven games, the Giants can win all their remaining five and still wind up also-rams.

Vic Raschi became the fifth American league pitcher, and the 11th in the majors, to win 20 games with an eight-hitter over the Red Sox. It was his third straight 20-game winning season.

11 In Charmed Circle
 Not since 1923 have the majors boasted as many as 11 in this charmed circle. The record number of 20-game winners was 17 in 1903, 1905 and 1920. The American league high of 10 was set in 1907 and equaled in 1920. The National league high of nine was set in 1901 and duplicated in 1903 and 1914.

A single by pinch hitter Johnny Mize in the seventh drove in the tally that broke a 1-1 tie and paved the way for a three-run Yankee inning. Mize also doubled in the two-run eighth as Chuck Stobbs went down to his eighth defeat. Raschi helped his cause with two RBIs on a sacrifice bunt and a two-bagger. It was only the second New York win in Boston in 11 attempts.

Virgil Trucks climaxed a lost week-end for Cleveland, pitching the Tigers to their third straight win over the faltering Indians. Trucks helped win his 13th game by collecting three hits and driving in two runs.

Preacher Roe, for the second time in a week, halted a panic in Brooklyn, hurling his 22nd victory against only two defeats with a six-hitter against the Phils.

Sal Maglie hurled his 22nd victory for the Giants, holding the Braves to one run despite giving up 13 hits.

Murry Dickson won his 30th game for the Pittsburgh Pirates who swapped shutouts with Cincinnati. Dickson won the opener, 3-0, with a five-hitter. Howie Fox pitched the Reds to a second-game 2-0 win.
15th Double Win For A's
 Tom Poholsky and Gerry Staley pitched the St. Louis Cardinals to a 9-3 and 5-2 double win over the Chicago Cubs before 18,013 fans who pushed the Redbirds' home attendance over the million mark for the sixth consecutive year.

Philadelphia's Athletics won their 13th doubleheader, tops in the majors, with a 12-4 and 8-3 sweep over the Washington Senators.
 A six-run seventh gave the St. Louis Browns an 8-7 victory over the Chicago White Sox in a wild affair in which 37 players saw action, 19 of them Brownies.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Sept. 24 (AP) — At this time of the year everybody seems to have a patented cure for the "evils" of college football. . . . In a couple of weeks only the losers will be gravely concerned. . . . The ideas all have merits — from arch ward's "rotation" plan for coaches to the more recent statement by President Ralph C. Hutchison of Lafayette that "honest academic standards" will eliminate football's troubles — but you gotta be practical about such things. . . . Getting into the act, we don't believe a guy can be really dumb and play modern football, and he ought to get some academic credit for what he learns about such things as pass patterns and line quarterbacking. . . . It's the coach who is dumb when they get an athlete who can't keep up with classes if he tries. . . . As for subsidizing, etc., there isn't a coach or athletic director in the business who doesn't know what the other guys are doing. . . . A firm refusal to play ball — in any sense of the words — with the ones who get out of line would do the trick. . . . Question we can't answer is "Who draws the line?"

PROGRESS NOTED

A year ago Steve Sebo, Michigan State assistant coach, was ready to welcome a very promising prospect to his freshman squad. . . . But as the family car toured the campus for the first time, the kid became so homesick he just couldn't stand the thought of waving goodbye to the folks. . . . He persuaded his dad to turn back home without stopping. . . . This year, figuring the kid was a year older and more mature, the Spartan coaches made another try. . . . The boy showed up, unpacked the car and told the family goodbye. . . . But next morning he was missing and a phone call confirmed the fact that he'd sneaked out of the dorm in the early hours and hitchhiked back home. . . . By next fall Steve figures he'll have the boy for at least a couple of practice sessions.

MONDAY MATINEE

Marvin Bass, new William and Mary grid coach, spent a couple of days in the hospital before his team's opener against Boston U. to recover from nervous exhaustion. . . . What happens now with Oklahoma coming up. . . . The Broadway Clowns basketball team, which plays the small-town circuit in the U. S., has been doing just as well as the Harlem Globetrotters on their tour of Brazil. . . . Lou Harrelson, South Carolina guard, has been shorn of his nickname of "Judge." He no longer spends most of his time on the bench. . . . Ray Elliot of Illinois is listed as the "dean" of big ten football coaches, having been on the job since 1942. . . . They don't need any plan to keep the coaches rotating in that league.

LEHIGH, F. AND M. EARLY LOSERS IN NEW SEASON

(By The Associated Press)
 Lehigh and Franklin and Marshall, unbeaten in 1950, were stopped in their first outings this season as the football season for Pennsylvania colleges got underway.

University of Delaware scored early at Wilmington Saturday night to hand Lehigh's Engineers a 7 to 0 setback. Lebanon Valley college sent an 11 from Annville which trimmed the P. & M. Diplomats, 25 to 6 at Lancaster.

The commonwealth's big universities start their seasons this Saturday. Penn State entertains Boston university, California journeys to Philadelphia to meet the University of Pennsylvania and Duke will clash with the University of Pittsburgh in Pitt Stadium, Temple, a Friday night loss to Syracuse, 19-0, goes to Providence, R. 1, to meet Brown.

Fumbles Lose For F. and M.

The widely acclaimed Bucknell Bison strengthened pre-season predictions by trouncing Gettysburg, 41 to 7, at Hershey.

Lehigh's nine-game win streak became a memory after 3:45 of the first period. Delaware, playing its first game under new coach Dave Nelson, blocked an Engineer kick and recovered on the four yard line. Joe Scarica tallied the touchdown.

The end of F. & M.'s nine-game win streak resulted from two fumbles, a blocked kick and an intercepted pass as powerful LVC surged over the Diplomats.

The newly organized Pennsylvania Teachers College conference saw its first action. Bloomsburg defeated Mansfield, 20 to 7; California trounced Edinboro, 33 to 6; Indiana whitewashed Kutztown, 14 to 0, and Shippensburg beat Cheyney, 28 to 0.

Other State Results

It rained hard during the game at Lock Haven but the Bald Eagles had more trouble with West Liberty as the West Virginians ran roughshod over Lock Haven, 33 to 0, for their 21st consecutive victory.

In other games:
 Lincoln defeated Moravian 20-0, University of Scranton shut out Kings of Wilkes-Barre 34-0, John Carroll blanked St. Francis of Loretto 24-0, Upsala upset Muhlenberg 13-8, Albright surprised Lafayette 12-6, Slippery Rock slipped by Westminster 19-13, and West Virginia was held to a 20-9 victory over Waynesburg.
 St. Vincent entertains Salem tonight at Latrobe.

GRANITE COPS LEAGUE TITLE

Granite captured the playoff title of the South Penn Baseball league by making it two-in-a-row over Brunshtown Sunday afternoon 7-4 in a contest played on the New Oxford diamond before a large crowd. Granite had previously eliminated Bonneville after capturing third place in the regular season standing by upsetting Hunterstown 5-2 to break a tie.
 Brunshtown, regular season champs, was allowed but six hits by Laughman who whiffed seven and walked six. Crawford gave up eight safeties, fanned seven and yielded five bases on balls.
 A trio of runs in the last of the eighth inning to break a 4-4 deadlock gave Granite the decision. J. Hankey poled two hits for the winners while Burns also secured two for Brunshtown.

The High Mass of Exposition will take place at 6:12 o'clock a.m., to be followed by late Mass at the usual hour. In the evening services will be held at which Father Waterson, vice president of Mt. St. Mary's college, will preach, and on Monday evening the sermon will be preached by Father Shanahan, of Bonneauville. The Mass of Exposition will close the Devotion on Tuesday morning.

On Friday William F. Cody, the noted Indian scout, known on the plains as "Buffalo Bill," made a flying trip to Gettysburg. He came direct from the scene of the Indian war, having come east under the impression that hostilities would be suspended for the present. He left on Saturday, having received a telegram from Gen. Sherman recalling him west. This indicates that the Indian hunt is to be resumed at once by Gen. Crook. "Buffalo Bill" is one of the most noted scouts on the plains, and has had large experience in Indian warfare. He is a tall, erect, well-built, with a keen eye and intellectual expression; wears a broad-rim, soft, felt hat, with long black hair falling loosely and profusely over his shoulders. We believe he is a member of the Kansas legislature. Mr. Cody thinks Custer's defeat was largely due to Reno's failure to support him promptly.

THAT JAPANESE PEACE TREATY

Undoubtedly that Peace Treaty signing at San Francisco will stand out as one of the most remarkable historic happenings in all the story of mankind. I watched from my home before the TV. As I listened to the inspiring address of the Japanese premier I kept thinking of those lines from Gray's "Elegy"—"the paths of glory lead but to the grave."

I thought of the once boasted words of the Japanese military men who so brutally attacked nation after nation, and then I thought of the once great empire now stripped to a mere fraction of what it once was. I also thought of the inspiring Douglas MacArthur, General of the Army and a statesman who taught a nation that peace and good will are the only basis on which to build a nation, and I wondered at the absence of this great man.

There were no smiles upon the faces of the defeated who stepped up to sign their names to this remarkable treaty. You could sense from their faces that they had learned the great lesson that war never pays—it leaves nothing but tears and desolation.

The vacant seats created by those who refused to sign this treaty spread an ominous spell about that beautiful hall. Driving away in their big cars, they sped from one of their greatest opportunities to convince the world that they are sincere in their repeated statements that they are first of all for peace, an opportunity that may not be repeated.

In this human world no peace treaty can be perfect. Sincere intention, and regard for the rights of other nations go beyond mere words. Nations must compromise, as individuals have to, so as to gain the highest spiritual welfare for all concerned. Benjamin Franklin once wrote that there never could be a good war or a bad peace. The waste of these last World Wars have come to the doorstep of every home in the world.

Let us hope and pray that the signing of this treaty between defeated Japan and the forty-eight nations that signed, and who strive through the organization of the United Nations to outlaw all war, may result finally in a universal peace among all nations, making this a co-operative and happier world in which to live.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Dancing Stars." Protected, 1951, by The George Matthew Adams Service

Just Folks

HONORS

I would not wear them on my coat.
I'd rather keep them in my heart.
I never want a friend to note
That from him I've been set apart.

I can be proud of them alone.
But still I hope 'twill never be
That any honor I have known
Has made too proud a man of me.

Heart keep them hidden! There were some
That proofs of friendship must remain;
And there's tomorrow soon to come
When I must face my tasks again.

Death of Dr. Bittle: A special dispatch to the Baltimore Sun says that Rev. David F. Bittle, D.D., president of Roanoke college, Virginia, died suddenly on Monday evening. Dr. Bittle graduated at Pennsylvania College with the class of 1835, the second class graduated after his organizing.

He married Miss Louisa C. Krauth, sister of the late Dr. C. P. Krauth. On the organization of Roanoke college, he was elected its first president, and occupied that position until his death, its success being largely due to his self-sacrificing labors and devotion. In June, 1875, he delivered the annual address before the Young Men's Christian association of Pennsylvania college, in this place.

FALL PLANTING RECOMMENDED

Fall planting of fruit trees, grapes, and bush fruits is a recommended practice and usually one can begin to plant during the last half of October and continue through most of November, says Ernest G. Christ of Rutgers university in the New York Herald-Tribune.

The climatic conditions of a given area determine the length of time available for fall planting. Fruit plants are ready for fall planting after most of the leaves have fallen and the job should be completed before the soil begins to freeze. The longer the plant has to become established before freezing weather arrives, the better for it. Fall planting is especially good for the sweet and sour cherries, currants and gooseberries.

The growth of the fruit plant will make in subsequent years is determined greatly by the kind of planting job that is done. The hole should be dug large enough to accommodate the entire root system and it should be a little deeper than the depth at which the plant was growing in the nursery. Prune any broken or injured roots to a clean cut to induce rapid healing and reduce disease infection.

Spread the roots out so they are not cramped or bent. Use top soil or well composted soil in the hole around the roots. Do not use fertilizer in the hole around the roots. No fertilizer will be needed until early spring. Leave a slight depression around the base of the plant for more effective watering, but before cold weather arrives mound the soil slightly around the trunk of a fruit tree to prevent water from collecting and freezing.

One high producing cow can give the dairy farmer as many dollar bills above feed costs as three of her low-producing sisters.

TIMELY NOTES ON ROSE CARE

Late summer and early fall weeks are important in the life of roses. Not only must the active grower follow a course of protective care, but prospective growers must start plans for planting. In all these tasks the factor of timing is important. Therefore, the following rough outline may serve as a program of rose growing events around the year, with emphasis on work to be done before winter.

It is not too late to give established roses light cultivation and to remove weeds and grass from around them. At the same time fallen leaves and other litter should be gathered and burned to reduce dangers of mildew, black-spot and other fungus ills which otherwise might live over winter among debris. Too, as long as rose foliage remains green the plants should not suffer from lack of moisture. Watering liberally every week to ten days is an excellent investment in next year's roses.

Applications of Massey dust (one part lead arsenate in nine parts superfine sulphur) should be continued until roses drop their leaves next month.

From the middle to the latter part of October is a good time to plant mostly hardy climbers. As a general practice climbers may be planted a little earlier than bush roses. The latter are usually planted in late October or early November. In all planting work it is advisable to prepare soils at least a few weeks in advance.

If roses are grown in well drained soils where there is now danger of standing water around them over winter, an ideal toward which every grower should aim, they will need little or no codding care. Often over-mulching does more harm than failure to mulch at all. Perhaps the main purpose gained from winter mulching is to protect the younger woods from excessive exposure to sun and wind—drying. If the plants are ridged fairly high with soil in late November or early December, pine or other evergreen boughs will in most cases provide enough shade to attain this necessary protection. Certain it is that use of leaves, fine straw or other materials that pack down sodden over winter will not benefit the plants. Whatever the material it should be airy and light.

Before roses are ridged with soil in late fall all fallen leaves broken or dead woods and similar litter should be carefully gathered and burned. This sanitation greatly reduces mildew and black-spot.

Spraying all roses with Bordeaux mixture during the dormant season is recommended. Most experienced growers make this application on a mild day in February before buds begin to swell. Another application in early March after the soil ridge is removed may be advisable, particularly after fungus diseases have been prevalent the previous year.

How about spring planting? This question is asked wherever roses are discussed. Experience proves that fall planting is preferable but spring planting is permissible if the work is done early and if burlapped plants are kept adequately moist before planting. Delaying spring planting until April or early May usually leads to disappointments and failure.

FEED LAWN GRASS THIS WEEK

First by a wide margin among causes of lawn failure is the commonly overlooked factor of grass starvation. This usually results from the natural depletion tendency of soils becoming shallow and hard. It often originates in the mistake of spreading subsoil from basement and foundation excavations over the lawn area during building operations. But whatever the source, deficient nourishment must be promptly corrected or weeds, moss, and crabgrass will come in to take the place of the starved-out desirable grasses. The solution lies in systematic feeding.

At this point theories branch off into two highways of practice. One leads to use of livestock manure to improve the soil in the beginning and as top dressing over winter to maintain fertility. The other takes the form of applications of commercial fertilizer to nourish the grass. What are the merits of and objections to these two methods? Because early September is one of the three dates of the year for feeding established lawns, the subject demands immediate consideration.

Experience proves that manures introduce weed and crabgrass seeds into lawn soil and thereafter may thwart all efforts to gain the beautiful, vigorous turf every grower desires. This is true after manure is used for building and repairing soils or where it is employed as an over-winter top dressing. And while many attractive stands of lawn grass are grown from this source of organic matter and nutrients, yet the danger usually outweighs the prospective benefits.

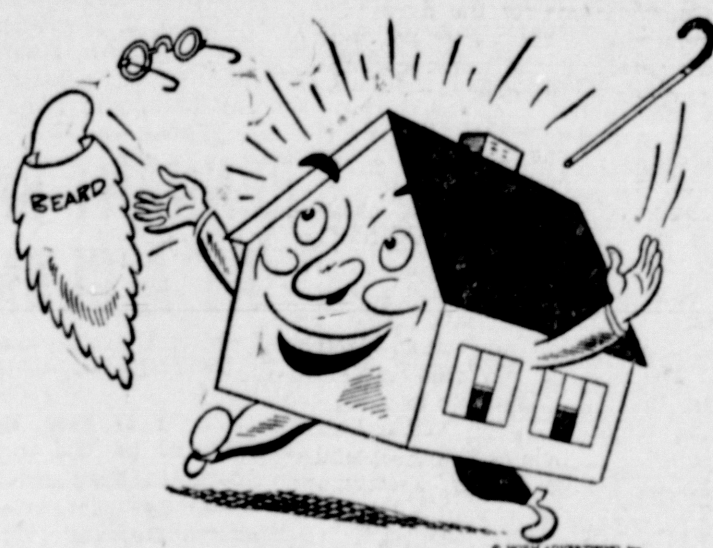

After many years of experimenting with lawn, golf green, park, and cemetery grass, plus the experiences of innumerable readers, the editor is convinced that the most effective and safest way to feed lawn grass is to make two or three applications of commercial fertilizer every year, preferably in early March, early June, and early September. The one exception to this rule is: Omit the June feeding if crabgrass is present. A 6-8-6 strength of fertilizer is recommended. If the local dealer does not carry this strength and cannot prepare it, a 5-10-5 formula may be substituted. For unusually backward areas, especially for a first feeding after many years of neglect, 2½ to 3½ pounds per 100 square feet is a satisfactory rate. If the grass is in fair condition or if feeding has been previously practiced, 2 to 3 pounds per 100 square feet is advised.

The fertilizer should be broadcast uniformly over the lawn surface and then watered gently into the soil at once to prevent its burning the tender grass. If the soil surface is hard, some means of breaking the crust should be employed before the fertilizer is applied. Several heavy spikes driven through a block, with a handle attached against the top, make an effective instrument for this task.

How about lime for feeding grass? As mentioned frequently here, lime is not directly considered a plant food. Indiscriminate applications of lime on lawns may actually injure grass. Certainly in few instances is it the all-out, problem-solving cure-all many persons think it is. Only where the soil is too strongly acid to produce vigorous grass, as determined by an accurate soil test, should lime be applied.

The general recommendations offered here will help solve the difficult problem of growing luxuriant grass on cemetery lots. Of course, the editor invites all related questions.

Washington, Sept. 24 (AP) — A Democrat's angry blast at Senator McCarthy appeared today to indicate an increasingly bitter political battle over whether the Wisconsin Republican should be ousted from Congress.

This is the group which has before it a resolution by Senator Benton (D-Conn.) raising the question of whether McCarthy should be expelled from the Senate.

PHYSICIAN SAYS
ANIMAL PLASMA
USED IN HUMANS

Tokyo, Sept. 24 (AP)—The claim of a Japanese research physician that he has successfully used animal blood plasma in transfusions to more than 600 human patients caused a flurry of interest here today.

Dr. Kunio Kawaiishi of Kawaiishi Clinical Institute of Hiroshima Medical college told a medical meeting in Tokyo that he effectively uses the processed plasma of cows, horses and pigs when patients require transfusions.

He made his statement before the reputable Japan Epidemics Institute, an association of physicians from all sections of this country.

Minor Ill Effects

Dr. Kawaiishi said he adds formalin and caustic soda to animal plasma and also uses a heat process. In occasional cases, he noted, the animal plasma caused slight ill effects such as rash or vomiting.

He found his plasma "especially effective" after operations, in burn cases, and in treatment of patients who lost blood through knife wounds. The newspaper Yomiuri quoted the physician as saying he found "practically no difference" in results obtained as compared with human blood plasma.

Dr. George J. Stein, chief of the army's 406 Medical General laboratory and blood bank in Tokyo, said today he had heard of Kawaiishi's experiments and added: "I have an open mind about these experiments but at the same time it must be recognized that the doctor's claim is counter to all we know about immunological principles."

Eight powerful streams of water from two pumps demonstrated last Wednesday evening that the north end of Gettysburg has plenty of fire protection now. Firemen made the test at the request of the Gettysburg Municipal Authority, operators of the water system, to show how the new ten-inch water main, which crosses the campus of Gettysburg college, now provides an ample supply of water for any emergency. The test was made on the college campus in front of the Eddie Plank Memorial gymnasium. (Photo by Lane Studio)

In Memoriam

SLOAT: In memory of Clara Sloat, who died 7 years ago September 21.

"Gone, dear grandmother, gone forever
How we miss your smiling face.
But you left us to remember
None on earth can take your place.
A happy home was once enjoyed,
How sweet the memory still.

Atterbury Housing Facilities Poor

Washington, Sept. 24 (AP)—Living conditions for servicemen and their families at Camp Atterbury, Ind., are better than average "but by no means satisfactory," according to a Senate subcommittee.

That was the report made on Atterbury by the armed services subcommittee on preparedness headed by Senator Lyndon Johnson (D-Texas) after an investigation at 16 army, navy, air force and marine training camps. Pennsylvania's 28th Division is in training at Camp Atterbury.

"While rent gouging and sub-standard unsanitary accommodations are not as prevalent at Atterbury as in other parts of country," the group's report said, "conditions are by no means satisfactory."

The report said that as a result of the housing shortages, families are scattered in sections of Indiana many miles from camp. "Worse than the expense and inconvenience have been the large number of traffic fatalities involving camp personnel," the report said. "Since reactivation of the camp (in 1946) there have been 43 fatalities in off-post automobiles accidents. Of these, 38 have been men commuting long distances to be with their families."

Twenty-three persons attended the meeting which was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh C. McIlhenny, Harrisburg road. Devotions were conducted by J. C. Brister. Refreshments were served after the meeting.

Eight powerful streams of water from two pumpers demonstrated last Wednesday evening that the north end of Gettysburg has plenty of fire protection now. Firemen made the test at the request of the Gettysburg Municipal Authority, operators of the water system, to show how the new ten-inch water main, which crosses the campus of Gettysburg college, now provides an ample supply of water for any emergency. The test was made on the college campus in front of the Eddie Plank Memorial gymnasium. (Photo by Lane Studio)

King Of England

palace source had reported that the king "made it safely" through the first crucial night after his operation yesterday morning.

Anxious Britons, who had prayed for the safety of their beloved monarch, got no indication of the king's exact condition in his battle against the after-effects of the surgery.

The announcement was signed by five doctors who had spent the night at the king's bedside.

Post Bulletin On Fence

Handwritten with soft lead pencil, the bulletin was posted on a board attached to the fence in front of Buckingham Palace.

The waiting crowd found its terms reassuring: "Thank God for that!" one woman shouted.

"We're so glad for the queen," said another.

A tall police inspector read the bulletin aloud over the heads of the jostling throng. People then lined up and filed slowly past for a first-hand look.

Duke Goes To London

Persons familiar with the wording of official royal announcements said the terse statement indicated there has been no turn for the worse, but that the king's condition is still serious. They found no evidence of any immediate medical concern.

Queen Elizabeth spent the night in a room near her desperately ill husband. The rest of the royal family was also nearby. Queen Mother Mary, 84, kept in touch by telephone from her residence at Marlborough House.

The Duke of Windsor, whose abdication in 1936 made George king, hurried to London from Paris.

There was still no change, however, in the plans of Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh to leave next week for Canada.

The 55-year-old king spent the critical night under the watchful eyes of doctors and nurses. Watchers were understood to include five of the eight doctors who took part in the two-hour operation. Dr. Clement Price-Thomas, who performed the actual lung resection, did not remain in the palace.

5-Day Crucial Period

Lung resection is the term used for surgical removal of the whole lung or part of it. It has not been indicated how extensive the operation was or which lung was affected.

Medical authorities are in general agreement that the first four or five days after the operation are the crucial period.

Opinions vary on how long recovery may take, but most authorities hold out for from seven to ten weeks.

The king's illness overshadowed political campaigning for the general election set for October 25. Political quarters, however, gave little credence to suggestions that the election might be postponed.

ANCIENT CARS ARE CHUGGING ON 1951 TREK

Cumberland, Md., Sept. 24 (AP) —

A caravan of nearly 125 antique automobiles chugged bravely out of here this morning, their tail lamps blushing with pride at having climbed the 3,000-foot mountains between here and Pittsburgh.

The first leg of their tour, a revival of a custom of the 1900's, began yesterday in Pittsburgh.

Opera and radio singer James Melton, who is president of the Antique Automobile Club of America, leads the group in a 1907 Rolls Royce that originally sold for $20,000.

The caravan is a throwback to the days of the Gibson Girl when auto manufacturers staged such tours as a test of road performance. They became known as "Glidden Tours" after a New England telephone executive, Charles J. Glidden, adopted the custom of donating prizes to the driver of the best performing car.

Only One Casualty

There was only one casualty reported as the touring old-timers wheeled into town here yesterday. An ancient Maxwell was being mercifully towed through the city's streets, its owner unavailable for comment, explanation or excuse.

Thousands of persons flocked to the armory last night to view the relic automobiles, polished to glisten as brightly as they did the day they brought a pretty price.

A 1911 Renault, made in Paris to sell for $10,000, was in the tour. Its owner, W. S. Weint, of Newark, O., said the car won the AACA's national trophy for the best restoration job last year.

A 1922 Regal, driven by James C. Sutton, Bristol, Pa., and Stanley Wilkinson, of Philadelphia, was averaging about seven miles to the gallon of gasoline.

Sutton and Wilkinson were decked out in caps, goggles and raccoon coats.

The cars must be at least 25 years old to be in the tour. Some of them are nearly 50 years old.

James Melton's Rolls Royce is only one of the more than 100 old cars he owns.

Tito Calls Stalin "Greatest Meddler"

Titovo Ulice, Yugoslavia, Sept. 24 (AP)—Yugoslavia's Premier Marshal Tito described Stalin today as "the greatest meddler in world history," and said the Soviet leader is "bent on an imperialistic campaign of conquest in the Balkans unrivaled even by old Czarist Russia."

The Russians already are making warlike preparations in eastern Europe, typified by the repainting of Russian warplanes in Hungary to substitute the Hungarian for the Soviet insignia, Tito said in a speech before 25,000 persons.

Tito's blistering attack on his one-time ally was his first major broadcast address in more than a year, and the first since his operation early this year for a kidney ailment.

Tito, clad in the uniform of a field marshal, looked confident and healthy as he spoke from a flag-be-

"KING'S" SON KILLED

Lancaster, Pa., Sept. 24 (AP)—An auto accident yesterday killed Ernest Mast, 10-year-old son of Jacob K. Mast, "potato king" of eastern Pennsylvania. State police reported the youngster dashed into the path of a truck while being chased by a friend. C. S. Duttenhoffer, deputy coroner, of Churchtown, declared the death accidental. The elder Mast won the "potato king" title in 1946 when he produced a record 734.07 bushels per acre.
